Willow Construction

residential

Enduring quality—the hallmark of every Willow home

Since 1973—marked by its first residential building project—Willow Construction has grown to become one of the Eastern Shore’s premier builders of fine custom homes and distinctive renovation projects. Willow Construction provides general contracting services for all types of residences, including mid- to large-size single family, estates, multi-family, townhomes and apartments, as well as full-scale remodeling and renovation projects. As demonstrated by numerous residential building awards, Willow Construction has earned a solid reputation for an unwavering attention to quality construction and a steadfast commitment to client satisfaction. Using its own team of experienced construction professionals and skilled craftsmen, Willow excels at creating custom residential properties with extraordinary details throughout, such as custom cabinetry, intricate moldings and fine finishes—all of which are fashioned with the care and precision of a company dedicated to the highest level of workmanship in every home we build.

Willow Construction applies the same detailed attention to its multi-family buildings as they do to all their residential projects. Whether apartment, condominium, townhome, or other type of multi-family complex, each project is built to accommodate both the developer and the homeowner and is guided by the same principle that serves as the foundation of the company—the integrity to build to the highest quality standards.
